Brothers Excel at De La Salle School

Freeport – Brothers Christian, Henry, and Ruben Mena began another year at The De La Salle School in Freeport. In sixth, eighth, and seventh grade respectively, these young Hempstead residents are outgoing, diligent students, always ready to help others. In fact, last year Christian was treasurer of the Student Council and Henry was its president!

The De La Salle School is a scholarship Catholic school in the Diocese of Rockville Centre that shares in the Lasallian heritage and exists to provide a quality education for young men in fifth through eighth-grade from economically disadvantaged backgrounds. Its curriculum meets and surpasses the guidelines established by the Board of Regents of the State of New York. “It is a testament to the quality of The De La Salle School’s education that the Mena family has entrusted three of their sons to our care,” commented Brother Thomas P. Casey, FSC, Executive Director. “Our small class size and well-rounded curriculum provides a unique educational opportunity for our students.”

The De La Salle School began its sixth year of operation in September. A limited number of seats are still available for fifth grade. For information about admission to the school, please call 516 379-8660 and ask for Brother Thomas P. Casey, FSC, Executive Director.
